

Gympie Region Volunteer Centre

Who we are....

CHSN is the provider for the Gympie Region Volunteer Centre in the Gympie region. This project is funded by the Commonwealth Department of Social Services (DSS). The Gympie Region Volunteer Centre assists prospective, new and current volunteers, build community capacity, strengthen partnerships and increase the use of shared resources within Gympie region. The Centre is based in Gympie and provides outreach services to Mary Valley, Cooloola Coast, Curra/Gunalda and Kilkivan/Goomeri communities.

The services we offer:

Training: CHSN will be conducting regular training workshops for our members, volunteers and the general public. We charge a nominal fee for this training.

Volunteer linking: Community organisations seeking volunteers can become members of CHSN and we will assist you to source suitable volunteers.

Individuals seeking volunteering opportunities are interviewed face to face and referred to appropriate positions, taking into account their interests and skill levels. Many organisations find this process valuable as it saves them time and allows them to find volunteers with the specific skills they require.

Events assistance: Often groups have one-off events and need volunteers to help with the many varied tasks. We assist the organisations to fill these roles by contacting our database of interested volunteers.

Corporate volunteering: Many corporate organisations have programs to encourage their employees to undertake volunteer work. We assist the corporate organisations in placing their employees into volunteer positions as individuals, as a group, or as part of an event or project.

Final words....

In assisting community groups our role is varied and ever changing. The local community depends very heavily on the wonderful services provided by volunteers and community groups. By supporting community groups Gympie Region Volunteer Centre hopes to enhance the quality of life in the broader community.
